In just over a week, 176 companies have already registered on the Entrepreneurship and Export Development Agency's "Enterprise Lithuania" information website "www.verslaspirescovid19.lt" and provided information on their capabilities to produce and supply the necessary tools to combat the COVID-19 virus. Among the names on the list are both already existed businesses and the newcomers to the medical market – businesses that have quickly reoriented and adapted their production capacity for the production of personal protective equipment, disinfectants and medical devices, which are currently in the greatest demand.

Currently, "Enterprise Lithuania" operates as an expert coordination group, collecting business offers and providing them to interested parties – state institutions and publicly publishing information to other potential customers. Businesses can provide information about their ability to produce the necessary tools or provide support on the website "www.verslaspirescovid19.lt" or can send an e-mail to galimybes@verslilietuva.lt.
